Nativity Scene at St. Joseph in Geneva:

The Nativity scene at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Geneva (831 E Street): Come visit the Fontanini Nativity of Father Waskowiak in the St. Joseph coat room. A Spanish Nativity scene is called a called a Belén which means Bethlehem, since a Spanish Christmas scene includes the entire town of Bethlehem and what often looks like all of Judea. In addition, there are angels, shepherds, sheep, farmers, hunters, washerwomen and bakers plus caves and houses and temples, rocks and streams and mountains. There are Magi on their camels, but the center and focus is the Mysterio, the group of Mary, Joseph and Jesus in the Crib. We can see that the nativity scene is much more than simply another Christmas decoration. It is an image of God who is Himself an image of Love. As we make our way through this Christmas season, let us take the sight of a Nativity scene as an opportunity for us to remember the mystery of the Incarnation and the love which God has for us. This will be open for viewing during the day and evening throughout the Christmas season until February 2
